In order to prevent impositions and embarrassments, the Tribune requests that persons leaving social notes, and especially marriage notices or engagements for publication, leave with them names through which the source of the same may be traced if the matter is called in question.

Apropos of the idea of Governor Spry to have a general celebration of "Fathers' day," the following will be of interest. It is by A. F. Dyer in the New York Times:

Let us wear a white carnation
For the dear old mother's sake;
She's the best of God's creation,
And as good as He can make.
But the fathers, plain and prosy,
Should be recognized some way.
For their lives are not so rosy,
But, like dogs, they need their day.
Not the old dads, not the old dads,
Who, when rocky grows the road,
Doubtless flout, take an outing,
And let mother hear the load;
They deserve no compensation,
But a cowhide or a good.

Let us give some recognition
To the dads who, year by year,
Keep their posts with grim decision,
Loss of job their greatest fear.
They are working, uncomplaining,
In the mill and market place,
Just a modest living gaining,
As they keep their steady pace.
Not the club dads, not the club dads,
But the dads who, day by day,
Keep on working, never shirking,
And at night bring home their pay.
They deserve some recognition,
Not one day, but every day.

The Country club presented a bright appearance Saturday evening with many dinner parties and informal little gatherings for the evening. Many were at the club all afternoon, and the golf and tennis players had a most enjoyable series of games.

All eyes are directed on the brides of June and coming events are being much discussed over the teas and in boudoirs. Several rather smart weddings will take place, and the selection of bridesmaids and matrons of honor form the leading topic of conversation.

The Actors' Fund dinner and vaudeville at the Lyceum called forth many of the leaders, and an unusual and delightful evening was the result.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Diehl was one of the most brilliant social events of the year, and thoroughly sincere were the expressions of good will extended to the popular couple. In many respects it was one of the most interesting events in years Salt Lake society has enjoyed, and several hundred guests were present.

The reception given at the McMillan was a most elaborate and enjoyable event of the week.

thirty little folks for a trip up Emigration canyon Saturday. Luncheon was enjoyed in a shady nook away up in the pines, and a merry outing was the result.

A table d'hôte luncheon will be given at the Country club on Wednesday afternoon. Arrangements are now being made for several other brightly informal events during the present month, owing to the growing number of members attending the club daily.

For Sweet Charity will be the card party at the hospitable home of Mrs. George Y. Wallace Monday. A few tables yet remain to be filled, but they will no doubt be taken prior to the event. A most original afternoon is looked forward to by all who contemplate being present.

South African Ostrich Feathers

Thousands of dollars worth of Finest Quality Plumes, Tips and prices within the reach of every purse

No such collection of high grade Ostrich goods has ever before been seen in this section.

Another Master Stroke of Enterprise on the Part of Our Rapidly Growing Millinery Department

We stand back of the quality of these feathers in every instance and feel that we cannot urge too strongly upon our customers the importance of taking advantage of this very remarkable offering.

During the past few seasons the use of ostrich feathers has reached enormous proportions, and it is unquestionable that all records will be broken in the demand for these extremely handsome and economical trimmings during the coming seasons. This means that prices are sure to be much higher. There's every good reason for you to buy at this sale.

A Little Story About the Ostrich and His Feathers

Our elaborate window exhibit is both interesting and instructive. We show the eggs and feathers of the birds at various stages of their preparation, as well as a magnificent display of the finished pieces. The finest black feathers and the fine white plumes come from the male bird. The very best plumes are taken from the wings and the smaller ones from the tail. The larger feathers are cut with shears and the quill remaining is pulled out after it has dried. The operation is painless to the bird.

As in the purchase of furs quality is a matter of great importance, as well as one which it is exceedingly difficult for the inexperienced to determine. The only safe way is to buy from a house of established reputation for reliability.

Feathers from South Africa

These goods come to us through the agent for one of the largest and most famous ostrich farms in South Africa. The feathers have been cleaned, dyed, curled and prepared for sale by the expert feather workers in America. The plumes were plucked from wild hardy male birds and have much greater vitality and durability than those from the tame and domestic birds reared in captivity.

The assortment comprises ostrich plumes, willow plumes, tips and aigrettes, Paradise Birds, and aigrettes, also Ostrich and Aigrette combinations from the choicest grades that are worth buying to the very finest that are made. Rich and glossy blacks, beautiful white and exquisite colors in almost every conceivable shade.
